SUMMARY

A Computer Technology graduate who lives for action, exploration, and high-pressure challenges. Whether I'm navigating unpredictable terrains on cross-country motorcycle rides, competing on the sports field, or diving into deep cinematic storytelling, I thrive on discipline, stamina, and mental focus. I channel this exact same competitive drive into the tech world—crushing 100+ Problems on LeetCode, collaborating in fast-paced hackathons, and engineering robust backend architectures using Java, Spring Boot, and SQL. I am looking to bring this high-octane energy and technical grit to a fast-growing development team.

PROJECT

1. Free Movie Streaming Platform - NoCostNights

The full-stack app with Java, Spring Boot backend, HTML/CSS frontend. Key features: real-time news feed, auto-pagination for new movies, movie search by name via Spring Data JPA. Demonstrates MVC, REST APIs, MySQL integration, and responsive UI for scalable streaming.

2. Web Security Scanner

Developed a web-based vulnerability scanner to detect common web application security flaws, including SQL Injection (SQLi), Cross-Site Scripting (XSS), Clickjacking, and exposed directories. Integrated a vulnerability scanning API to automate the detection of security weaknesses across target web applications. Generated structured vulnerability reports with detailed findings, severity levels, and recommended fixes.

3. Personal Portfolio Website

Created responsive portfolio with HTML, CSS, JS to showcase projects, education, resume, and certificates. Added smooth scrolling, CSS animations, and JS-powered project gallery with filtering/modals.
